Life-education makes us who we are and what we will be. Manifested in three forms – formal, informal and nonformal – it instructs us by way of our daily experiences and learning throughout our lives.

Tertiary education can surely contribute to this process as a meaningful component of life-education. But its role must first be clarified, then be defined and finally be fulfilled.

For this reason, I am of the opinion that tertiary education should be designed to provide students with, at least, knowledge and problem-solving skills, insights and critical thinking skills, ingenuity and creativity skills, as well as character and communication skills.

It is also worth noting that, to fulfill such a role, a solid tertiary education demands the active cooperation of students, in terms of level and intensity. Sadly, though, experience and observation tell us that not everyone is able to cooperate or even knows how to cooperate.

Therefore, it is needful to remind prospective students interested in pursuing a tertiary education of the words of Barack Obama spoken to high school students:

" At the end of the day, we can have the most dedicated teachers, the most supportive parents, the best schools in the world, and none of it will make a difference – none of it will matter – unless all of you fulfill your responsibilities: unless you show up to those schools, unless you pay attention to those teachers, unless you listen to your parents and grandparents and other adults and put in the hard work it takes to succeed.

I am confident that if students are responsible and committed, they will not only be able to "cooperate" with their tertiary education but also become fruitful members of society.

Studying in Singapore

1. Cultural Diversity

The nation boasts a rich multi-cultural heritage that is highlighted by the peaceful co-existence of its various ethnic groups including the Chinese, Malays, Indians and Eurasians. International students have the opportunity to experience this diversity and unity for themselves, and discover the vibrancy of unique ethnic districts such as Chinatown, Kampong Glam and Little India.

2. Accommodation

A comfortable home is always important to help you make the best of your learning experience. As a Kaplan student, you will enjoy great options whether you are in for a long or short stay. These include well-equipped student residences and a range of homestay locations.

3. Weather

Singapore is an equatorial country that is summer all year round and only gets a short rainy season in the later months. This is good news as you can wear light clothing and enjoy outdoor activities throughout the year.

4. Social Life

Student life at Kaplan is so much more than books and classes. Kaplan Campus Life has interest groups, international community clubs and the Kaplan Student Council, which lets students with leadership qualities take on the role of Kaplan ambassadors.

5. Dining & Shopping

You will never run out of options when it comes to everyone's favourite pastimes — dining and shopping. Singapore's multi-racialism means an abundance of food variety that is as affordable as it is delectable. When it comes to shopping, the famous Orchard Road belt and other trendy retail hotspots offer endless choices.

6. Healthcare

A comprehensive healthcare network ensures you are well taken care of when it comes to your personal health. Private and public hospitals, and outpatient clinics are located throughout the island, as well as private medical clinics covering all specialisations.

7. Safety

Singapore has been consistently ranked as one of the world's safest cities. The country provides a safe living and learning environment for students from all parts of the world.

8. Transport

An efficient network of public transportation ensures you can travel comfortably and affordably to any part of the island by bus, taxi or train.

Kaplan Campus Life

Kaplan Campus Life is managed by the Employability and Student Affairs (ESA) team with a focus on enhancing the student learning experience at Kaplan.

There are 16 Interest Groups and International Community Clubs, over 400 co-curricular activities and events including new student orientations, networking and interactive engagement, leadership development, cultural and performing arts, community volunteerism and sports activities. These are organised annually to make campus life at Kaplan filled with excitement, possibilities and opportunities.

- Student life beyond academia allows students to learn essential skills for life that will benefit their personal growth and careers.
- Students involved in committees and/or clubs will develop skills to communicate, collaborate, solve problems and make decisions effectively.
- Students involved in leadership development will hone skills in event planning, conflict resolution and ethical leadership.
- Volunteering and participating in competitive sports will help to elevate teamwork and spirit while embracing diversity, cultural differences and individuality as elements of our campus life.

Testimony

Davidson (Indonesian)

University College Dublin Student (2020) Bachelor of Business Studies (Honours) in Management (Top-up)

The idea of studying subjects I am passionate about really motivated me to pursue a Degree. With a Degree qualification, I have the necessary knowledge to tackle any problems I might encounter in future career endeavours. I opted to study in Singapore as it is an inclusive society where people from many cultures meet. Studying here has taught me about various cultures, and I have made many friends from all over the world in the two years I have studied with Kaplan.

I had found out about Kaplan through their website, where I also discovered the course that I was interested in. I decided to enrol as the course duration and modules intrigued me. The programme allows me to have valuable insights into how businesses operate and about the behind-the-scenes works that companies do to make profits. My lecturers have been engaging and helpful, and my class is filled with students who have the same goals I do.

After graduating, I aim to seek opportunities in various industries to get fresh perspectives on what is going on in them. Kaplan enables me to attain a recognisable Degree in a short amount of time without compromising on the knowledge delivered. This allows me to have a head start in the workforce and industries, and doing so at the age of 20 is valuable.

Making new friends has been a daily occurrence for me since I joined the Student Executive Committee. Planning events and communicating with others have trained me to be better and to be prepared for the real world. It has been an irreplaceable experience. I advise prospective students to also be involved in clubs as it is one of the most valuable experiences one can get besides studying.

Stephanie Davira Christy (Indonesian)

Murdoch University Student (2020) Bachelor of Arts in Psychology and Criminology (Double Major)

I have always been passionate about psychology and law criminology, and my dream job is to be a Forensics or Criminal Psychologist. As such, I chose to study a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology and Criminology (Double Major) Degree programme with Murdoch University as I felt it was the perfect fusion of these two fields. Also, as I have lived in Singapore since I was in middle school and it is the closest country to my home nation of Indonesia, I decided to study with Murdoch through Kaplan in Singapore.

Coming from a family of high achievers, I am aiming to achieve a Master's Degree or higher. Through pursuing higher education, I aspire to open new doors and employment opportunities using the skillsets I develop.

The programme is just the right level of challenge. I like how almost all its units enable me to utilise my own ideas and exercise critical thinking, and this has allowed me to gain further insight into the psychology and criminology fields. Additionally, I appreciate how I can explore in depth the different areas of Psychology and Criminology.

My campus life has been enriching, as well as beneficial in a social context. Currently, I am part of the Student Executive Committee and involved in two other clubs. I would strongly advise other students to also involve themselves in at least one club to improve their curriculum vitae.

By studying with Murdoch University through Kaplan, I have built a solid foundation for further education. I believe that this Double Major, along with my additional experience and involvement in the Kaplan clubs, will give me a competitive edge. I plan on advancing to a Master's Degree programme after graduation.
